Virtua Racing Steals The Show!

Cal from Worlds Apart gets to grips with Virtua Racing.

The merry month of May saw three Sega/Capital Radio Roadshows broadcast live from various South East England locations.

Poptastic performers over the three events included Chart toppers Bad Boys Inc., Tony Di Bart, D:Ream, East 17, EYC, Dannii Minogue and Roachford. However, the real stars had to be Virtua Racing which drove everybody wild, and those funky double decker buses (see Sega Bus Tour Dates below). For the full low-down on the Roadshows turn to the page which follows the Tails strip.

Sonic keeps a watchful eye on members of Badboys & D:Ream's Peter Cunnah.

NHL Hockey '94 from Electronic Arts is a highly popular simulation of the fast moving ice game, and is deemed the best of its type. However, if you find there's not enough excitement in an ordinary hockey match, then Mutant League Hockey could be for you. EA have basically taken their NHL game, turned all the players into horrible looking mutants and added lots of violence, excitement and humour. Fans of the sport may not like the way EA have transformed this hockey game, but the idea is about having lots of fun.

Mutant League Hockey allows you to select a four-stage tournament or a one-off match, played on one of five levels of aggression. Right from the start your aim is to play dirty, as fair play gets you nowhere! Each player is equipped with various weapons to attack the opposition. When fighting occurs a one-to-one 'beat-em-up' screen appears showing a close-up of the action. Each team also has a set of special moves they can perform, ranging from bribing the referee to implementing an exploding puck to dispose of an opposing player.

The ice rinks also provides a certain amount of danger; some have flames shooting out of the ice, whilst others are riddled with holes.

Apart from all the mayhem there's still a hockey game within Mutant League and these additions to the gameplay make it that much more exciting. If you liked what the Bitmap Brothers did with Speedball 2, then you're certain to like this fast moving and exciting hockey game. - DG.

SENSIBLE SOCCER CD

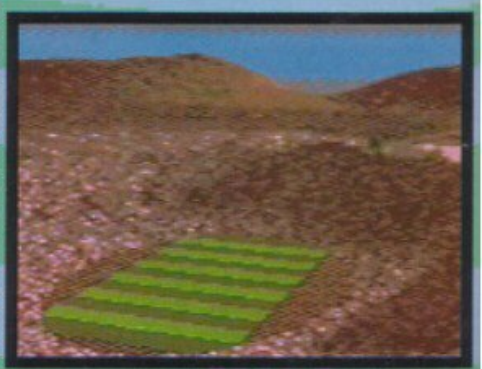
game type: SPORT SIMULATION

1-2 PLAYERS

MCD

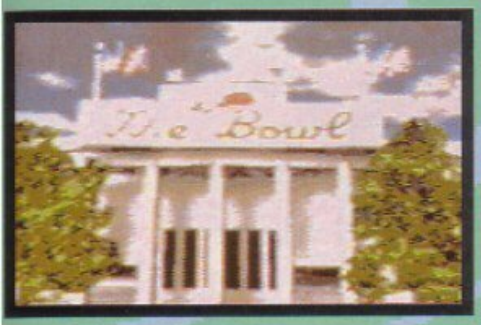
Everyone knows that the Mega Drive version of Sensible Soccer has been constantly overshadowed by the brilliant graphics of FIFA Soccer. However, Sensible Soccer CD is quite frankly the most playable footie game. The graphics and ability of the players to manoeuvre allows for thrilling goals to be created; you can blast the ball from the half-way line with enough curve to bend it past the goalie. Scoring like this adds great reality value to the game and at times you almost feel compelled to jump up and shout, 'G-o-a-l!'

So, what's so different about the CD version compared to the cart? Well, let me start by saying the actual gameplay remains the same. However, the main improvements, as expected, are all cosmetic with the addition of CD film sequences.



This includes a very snazzy intro sequence which shows a texture-mapped football pitch swirling around the screen. You also get a helicopter tour of Wembley Stadium (or the Bowl Arena in the US for international matches), before playing each match which all looks very impressive.

Sony have truly gone to town with the sound effects and music on the Sensible Soccer CD. Various dance tracks play during the menu screens, but what's really appealing are the new crowd effects, which were recorded at a live match (and no doubt edited like crazy). The, 'One-nil, one-nils', cheers and 'Oooohs' are all here! Another bonus for Mega-CD owners is that it's £5 less than the cart (record companies take note!). So if you don't own the cart but do possess a Mega-CD, go forth to your local games store and play the ultimate in footballing action! - DG.



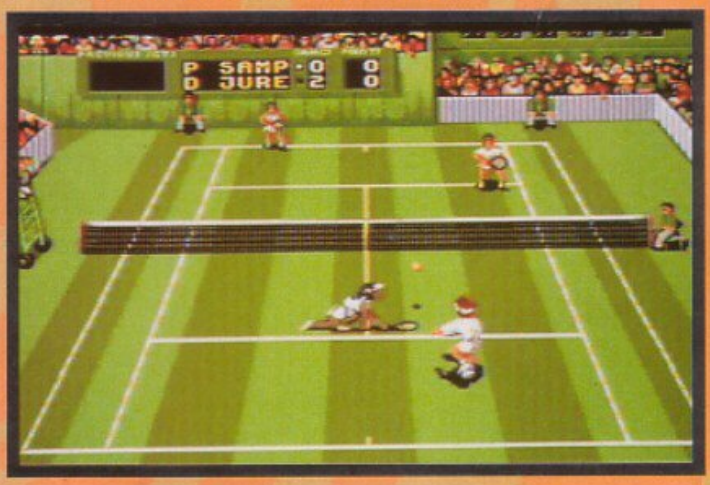
PETE SAMPRAS TENNIS

game type: SPORTS SIMULATION
1 - 4 PLAYERS

MD

Pete Sampras served over 1,000 aces and won Wimbledon and the US Open in '93, he finished the last season as number one in the world and earned a record $3.6 million dollars (a record for any single season). He may be one of the world's best players, but is Pete Sampras Tennis any good? Well, for a start the game cartridge features two extra built-in joypad ports. Called the J-Cart, it allows up to four people to compete at the same time (providing you have four joypads). Previously, simultaneous four player games from companies such as EA required you to buy a 4-player adaptor, but with this you're getting an adaptor completely free!

The initial menu gives you a choice of playing a Challenge (single match), a Tournament or a World Tour. A Tutorial option gives you the chance to familiarise yourself with the controls before playing.



According to the manual there are two mystery options included, but they remain a mystery as I haven't discovered them yet! On selecting the Challenge you are asked to choose which player(s) you want. There are 30 female and male players in total, each one showing not only their ranking position but also whether they are left or right handed. However, Pete Sampras is the only really recognisable player in the game.

Once play is under way, you'll hear the superb speech and the realism of the whole thing. For example, if you're near the end of a match and the crowd starts shouting, the umpire will say, 'Quiet please. Thank you!'. The game plays extremely well and, using the various after touch shots, you can gain great control and placement of the ball.

The graphics and animation of the players is excellent; with over 4,000 frames of animation you can perform dives, lobs and many other impressive moves. Pete Sampras Tennis is the best tennis simulation I have played on the Mega Drive. Get your friends round and enjoy a thrilling doubles match! - DG.

CODEMASTERS & ELECTRONIC ARTS IN COURT BATTLE!

Tennis Sims vie for supremacy on the Mega Drive

One of this summer's hot releases for the Mega Drive is Pete Sampras Tennis from Codemasters, the same company that brought you Micro Machines. This impressive new tennis game, featuring champion player Pete Sampras, was unveiled at the recent European Computer Trade Show and served up a smash to anyone who dared take on the man himself.

Among the first to accept the challenge were pop groups E.Y.C., who were taking time out to promote their latest album and single, and Jesus Jones.

Photograph by Dave Hogan.

E.Y.C.

E.Y.C. band member Trey Parker said: "This is a mean game! I'm no good at actually playing tennis, but I can be a World Champion with this and I love the way you can make the players dive for the shots".

Iain Baker, from Jesus Jones, also enjoyed the game commenting: "It's so easy to get into - it's great! I just picked up the control pad and immediately knew my way round the court. It's one of the most enjoyable games I've played for a long time".

Pete Sampras Tennis, featuring the revolutionary J-Cart which allows up to four people to play simultaneously, is on sale now. However, it looks as though a fierce court battle could develop between Codemasters and Electronic Arts, who have announced Sports Tennis (a working title) for the Mega Drive.

Featuring singles and doubles matches over 16 tournaments and four surfaces, Sports Tennis boasts a high level of detail including chalk dust, squeaky trainers heard on the indoor court, and even arguing with the umpire! The players are Rotoscoped, which means their movements are drawn from film of real people performing. EA claim that Sports Tennis is simple enough for anyone to pick up and play, but flexible enough to provide a long-term challenge. Predictably, Sports Tennis will be compatible with EA's 4-Way-Play adapter for simultaneous four-player fun.

It may be game and first set to Codemasters, but will Electronic Arts bounce back to win the match with Sports Tennis*?*

ONE IN A MILLION

Sega Europes' latest announcement is that AB Electronics in South Wales are to produce the millionth Sega game cartridge.

Since 1993 over 30 titles have been produced in Wales for sale in the UK and Europe, including top selling game titles such as Aladdin and Sonic 3. In addition, AB Electronics exclusively produce all of Sega's Mega Drive games for European sales with plans underway to extend production to Game Gear games by September.

Frank Herman, Managing Director of Sega Europe remarked: "Our policy is to improve our service to the customer by producing games in Europe to eliminate the expense and delay of shipping to Japan. We also reduce our exposure to currency fluctuations, while continuing to produce games to a high standard with short lead times. The millionth games to be produced in Wales shows how this policy has already proved successful with video cartridge games. We look forward to increasing our European manufacturing for CD and cartridge games in the future".

ROCKIN GOOD NEWS

The world's first stone-age speedway simulation

In an attempt to inject new life into an old idea, Core Design has taken the motorcycle racing simulation back into the prehistoric age. The result is BC Racers (formerly Chuck Rally) for the Mega-CD and the Mega Drive 32X (when it's released).

Millionaire playboy caveman Millstone Rockafella has organised a competition to win the Ultimate Boulderdash Bike. The race takes place over eight stages, with four levels of difficulty and a selection of characters, including hunky hero Cliff Hanger and Roxy (his girlfriend), Axle Roads and Willy Mammoth, Brick Jagger, Gary Gritta and, of course, Chuck Rock and his son.

The competitors ride in pairs on dinosaur-driven motorcycles called Dirtybikes (with side-cars to control, too), and dotted around the tracks are obstacles such as rocks, lava pools and sleeping dinosaurs. Power-ups such as Dino Food fuel the bikes' living engines.

With the Mega-CD version of BC Racers, two players can ride the same Dirtybike; one player handling the bike itself, the other controlling the side-car (on the Mega Drive 32X there's also a split screen so two players can race against each other).

BC Racers will be released for the Mega-CD in October and for the Mega Drive 32X in February 1995.

SHORT BURSTS

That Taz-Manian devil - set to return in September.

MORE LOONEY TOONS

Four of our favourite Warner Brothers cartoon characters will be appearing on the Sega systems before the end of this year.

The Tazmanian devil strikes again in a sequel to Taz-Mania entitled Taz in Escape from Mars. Also starring is Marvin Martian, the green alien who gave Bugs Bunny a hard time (or should that vice versa?) in five cartoons. Taz in Escape from Mars is released for the Mega Drive and Game Gear in September.

That foul fowl Daffy Duck will be making his Master System debut in September, and the (meep-meep) Road Runner will be appearing on the Mega Drive for the first time sometime before Christmas (fact fans should note that he's already been the subject of an Atari Games arcade machine). The player controls Wile E. Coyote who is, as usual, out to get the bird through foul means or fouler.

A LATE RESULT

Sega's new Mega Drive football simulation World Championship Soccer II won't be out until after the World Cup has ended in August, but it will be released at the bargain price of £29.99.

Post World Cup fever with World Championship Soccer II on the Mega Drive.

A SHINING EXAMPLE

Also this month, Game Gear owners can find out what all the fuss was about with Shining Force, the role-playing adventure that received a rapturous reception on the Mega Drive. By the way, a beefed-up sequel, currently called Shining Force II, will be available for the Mega Drive in September.

SONIC AND ECCO DELAYED

Sonic Spinball for the Game Gear and Master System won't be out until September, and nor will Ecco The Dolphin for the Master System (delayed, it would seem, to coincide with the release of Ecco II for the Mega Drive).

FANCY A CHANGE?

Finally, for the Game Gear and Master System before this year's out (no firm release date has been set as yet), there's the Mighty Morphing Power Rangers (as in the top television series currently seen on Sky and GMTV). For further details, stay tuned to this channel.

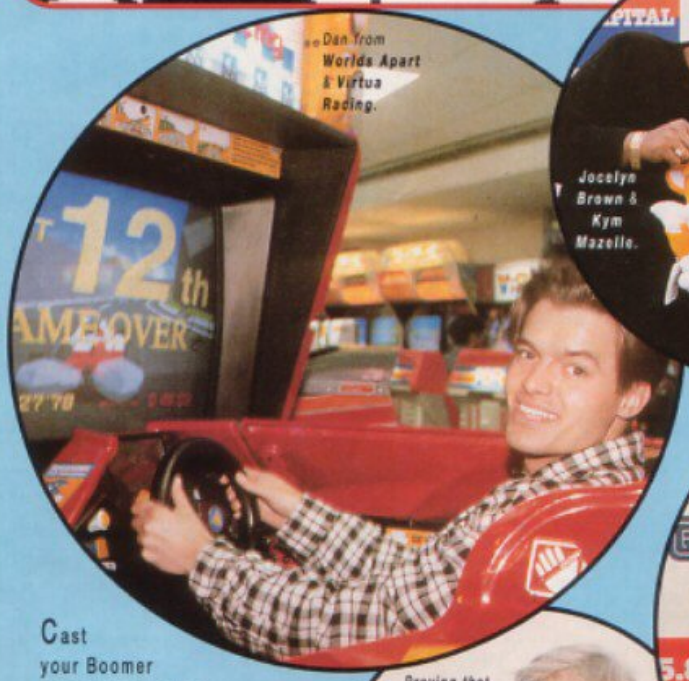
The End!

VIRTUA RACING DRIVES FANS WILD AT SEGA/CAPITAL RADIO ROADSHOWS!



Mini versions of Sonic & Tails with cuddly stars of the Dagenham Roadshow, East 17.

Cast your Boomer minds back to May, where not one, not two, but three Sega/Capital Radio Roadshows were broadcast live from Essex and London. DJ's including David (no longer a 'Kid') Jensen, entertained thousands by racing each other playing Virtua Racing on stage.

The first Roadshow took place amidst glorious sunshine in North London's Finsbury Park. Acts included Aswad, Bad Boys Inc., D:Ream, East 17. Pauline Henry, and EYC, who spent the day capturing the action with their video camera. Also making an appearance on stage were none other than Sonic, Tails and Knuckles, who, of course, all stole the show!

Unfortunately, crowds at Central Park, Dagenham were subjected to a rather wet and muddy day where performers included Dannii Minogue and Kenny Thomas. However, the biggest welcome of the day was reserved for East London boys East 17 (an insider reported that band member Tony Coldwell requested a cuddly toy for his daughter - but was it a cuddly Sonic or a cuddly Tails?). Worlds Apart were so impressed after playing Virtua Racing that they helped to launch the game at Hamley's later on that month.

A venue in West London was the location for the third Sega/Capital Radio Roadshow. Roachford strutted his stuff on stage, as did songstresses Kym Mazelle & Joceyln Brown, who sang their version of the song 'No More Tears' (Enough is Enough), originally recorded by Barbara Streisand and Donna Summer (ask your parents!).

The stars, however, over all three shows had to be the funky double-decker Sega buses, who had folk queuing to sample the delights on board. After all, despite the array of pop stars, STC knows that it was really the Virtua Racing steering wheel that the screaming hordes were itching to get their hands on.■

TOE JAM & EARL 2

Toe Jam & Earl 2

MD

Some boomers have found the mega-groovy Toe Jam & Earl 2 game to be quite troublesome.
Admittedly, Funkatron is not an easy place to catch those Earthlings, but don't fret - help is listed below to enable you to become truly funky masters!

Also, don't worry if you're having difficulty getting onto the later levels. Also listed below are seven level passwords to get you going:-

LEVEL	CODE
3	POA6!ZQNW906
5	VD06WK2ECTV7
7	P0Y-6K!TAJ6F
9	VDDFH-W9EKHC
11	KYJQ!Q8CJD66
13	JE0Q!FYLKJQ6
15	A!ZT1A0H9!6A

To make the later levels of the game easier, reset the game and turn Li'l Kids mode on and enter the password to level seven. From here, all the Earthlings can be trapped as in the kiddies mode - requiring only one or two hits instead of the normal eight or nine.
Also, enter TJ-AND-EARL! as the password and you should be rewarded with the end credits.

AZTEC ADVENTURE

MS

Aztec Adventure is a simple little shoot-em-up which, although not terribly exciting, can prove a lasting challenge if that's what you're after. It's the kind of game that can prove frustrating unless you have a bit of help - enter STC...
For a nifty level select cheat, before the scroll unwinds on the title screen press Up five times. When the character throws the cash, press Right three times. Wait until everybody moves to the right and press Left then Down. You'll now be able to access the stage select.

CASTLEVANIA

MCD

This top platformer from Konami was rated highly in STC recently. It's similar in fashion to Shinobi, but features better gameplay. The plot involves one of two characters whose aim is to stop Count Dracula from returning. We've found an excellant cheat which gives you a level select, up to 30 additional lives and switches the collision detection off!

Castlevania

Castlevania

On the title screen, press Up, Up, Down, Down, Left, Right, B and A on the joypad.

BATMAN RETURNS

MCD

Batman Returns, the CD version of the Batman film proved to be a very decent game with a great car racing stage. If the Joker is proving himself to be anything but, if the Riddler is just too puzzling, or if you'd rather not p-p-pick up the Penguin - fear not as STC is here to help. We've found a great cheat enabling you to advance a level and all you need do is press a few keys.
Make your way to the options screen and set it to the driving game. Press and hold down Left and hit B on the joypad. Go to the difficulty level option and press and hold Left and then press B. Repeat these key presses on each of the seven options, from top to bottom. If done correctly you'll hear a small ringing noise. Now when playing the game all you have to do is press C and you'll advance a stage. Bat-tastic!

JAMES POND 3

MCD

James Pond 3 is the latest outing for this fishy character. It involves him doing more hard platform- type levels, killing more baddies and negotiating even more jumps. Now for the cheat...

To obtain access to every route on the map, pop to the password screen and enter: Red Cheese, Yellow Mouse, Green Cat, Blue Dog and Red Book. Now, click on the door icon and hey presto - it's worked!

SONIC 3

The latest instalment of the spiky one sees him once again confronting the evil Doctor Robotnik in his biggest and best adventure yet. This new game saw Sonic go snow-boarding and taking part in a brilliant new 3D special stage incorporating a massive rotating ball. If you're having difficulty getting onto the later levels, you'll be happy to know that at last we've found the Sonic 3 level select cheat.

Sonic 3

To activate the level select, wait until the big Sega logo at the start of the game starts to disintegrate and the big blue Sonic zooms out of the screen. Quickly press Up, Up, Down, Down, Up, Up, Up and Up on the joypad; this has to be done quickly in order to work you'll hear a noise as soon as it's activated. Once you're back onto the screen with Sta and Options displayed, press Down and you'll see Sound Test. Enter this and you've finally reached the cheat screen where you can take Sonic to any level. Yippee!

ECCO THE DOLPHIN 2

The famous blue dolphin returns in the enhanced CD version of the best-selling cartridge game. Here's a cheat that reveals a hidden options screen giving access to all sorts of goodies.

To access the screen, pause the game half-way through a turn while Ecco i facing you, then press Right, B, C, B, C, Down, C and Up on the joypad. If this is done correctly the hidden options screen will appear. If not, just try again.

Juras-Sick

Dear STC,

Why on Mobius did you give Jurassic Park a low rating? Are you sure you haven't got your TV tuned in wrong? I think the graphics and sound in the game are far more superior than the Sonic CD. As for Andrew Shortland's comment back in STC 8 saying, 'Your reviews are very accurate', I hope he's reading this because he's bloomin' wrong! Oh, and while I'm at it, the reason I wrote 'Dear STC', is because that's exactly what it is - FAR TOO DEAR!

Adrian MacKenzie, Ross-Shire, Scotland. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

Oh, stop whinging Adrian! Just as you're entitled to your opinion, so are the humes who review the games in STC.

Amy Fire

Dear STC,

The only thing I don't like about the Sonic stories is Amy Rose! I can't understand why Sonic lets her get away with annoying him all the time. It seems obvious to me that he doesn't like her. Why doesn't he just get rid of her?

Michael Siddique, London (please send full address details). MD owner. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

So, there's a soft side to this tough, badnik-busting hedgehog. Anything wrong with that Michael?

Dust Busting

Dear STC,

I was wondering if you have any plans to produce special binders or covers in which to put STC copies. These would be especially useful in preventing my mum putting dirty fingerprints on my collection when she's hoovering my room.

Darren Mills, Canterbury, Kent. MD owner. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

There are no plans as yet, Darren, but you could try washing your hands after you've got up off your hume derriere and hoovered your own room! This way your mum won't have dirty fingerprints.

Cracking Knuckles

Dear STC,

Back in STC 19 you mentioned that Knuckles would be making his first appearance. However, we've still not heard sight nor sound of him. Please tell me why.

Duncan Edwards, Hoole, Cheshire. MS owner. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

Well Dunc, it was an unconscious ploy t keep you all in suspense - and it worked! However, we can reveal that Knuckles (who has sneaked into the Sonic Summer Special - o sale now), will be making an impact in ST 32, so take cover! Meanwhile, hope you like Boom Slater's pic of Knuckles on this page.
